

Licenses

All of the software on this Web site and in the JAppGen non-commercial distribution is Open Source.

The JAppGen software itself is made available under version 2 of the GNU General Public License, the GPL, which you should consult. This software is free for any non-commercial use under the terms of the GPL.

If you intend to use JAppGen for commercial purposes, you must obtain a commercial license from Planetlink Ltd.

The JAppGen non-commercial distribution includes jar files for other open source software. These are covered by their own licenses, a copy of which can be found in the same lib/ subdirectory as the jar file(s).